

Welcome to the Autumn Issue of The Garioch Partnership newsletter and welcome to our new look team: Dawn and Louise.

As ever, Dawn has been busy - attending local events and national conferences as well as supporting groups with funding bids and constitution changes.

Louise is focussing on the admin side of things, including a review of our membership – look out for a membership update survey coming your way soon!

You may not have met everyone yet, but we are the team that is working to support you and your group.

We'd love to come along to any coffee mornings, community cafés, farmer's markets – anywhere where we can meet folk, hae a blether, get to know what's going on in your community and find out how we can help you and your group. Let us know what you've got going on!

News

OSCR are changing the conversion process for existing charities changing their constitution to become a SCIO: the old charity will have to dissolve to allow the new one to form. This can be done simultaneously – but it adds an extra step to the process.

Also, the name of the new SCIO charity cannot be the same, for example a charity named “Pens and pencils” would now have to become “Pens and pencils SCIO”. This will have a knock on effect for groups around banking and funding bids.

OSCR have also updated the trustee declaration forms. For more information or advice about these changes, please get in touch – info@gariochpartnership.org.uk.

TRAINING NEEDS ANALYSIS 2016

AVA are looking to organise their training programme for next year: members of AVA should have received an invitation to complete a Training Needs Survey.

This will only take a few minutes to complete and will enable AVA to identify the training need of local organisations and groups.

In the mean time, you can now view the August - November 2016 AVA Training programme on the AVA website, with courses including First Aid; Food Hygiene; and Management Committee Skills.

National Standards for Community Engagement

The new revised National Standards for Community Engagement were launched on 29th September 2016 by the Minister for Housing and Local Government, Kevin Stewart MSP.

He said that communities across Scotland are becoming involved in every aspect of decision making and that engaging with communities leads to better decisions. He welcomed the revised National Standards for Community Engagement as a framework for supporting the participation and empowerment of communities.

First developed in 2005, the Standards are key principles for effective practice which support community engagement and user involvement in Scotland. In 2015 and 2016, SCDC and What Works Scotland were commissioned by the Scottish Government to undertake a participatory process to review and update the Standards in light of the current context.
